

RENEWABLE EXPORTS

2022 U.S. Export Value: $30.78 Billion

When it comes to helping U.S. renewable energy companies compete effectively in the global marketplace, trade financing plays a crucial role in both mitigating the risks and unlocking cash flow. Based on the latest U.S. Census Bureau data, companies of all sizes that export environmentally beneficial goods and services are finding success internationally, particularly since 95% of the world's consumers live outside U.S. borders.
